

INTERNATIONAL DYLAN THOMAS DAY

This year, to celebrate International Dylan Thomas Day, young people aged 7 – 25 from anywhere in the world are invited to take part in an online competition called Love the Words.

Simply download the opening paragraphs from Dylan Thomas' Under Milk Wood, cut up the words, use them to create your own poem, take a photo, and share it with the world on Twitter using the hashtags #LovetheWords and #DylanDay.

Download the Under Milk Wood extract from www.literaturewales.org/dylan-day or www.discoverdylanthomas.com.

The competition is open for entries from 9.00 am on Wednesday 15 March until midnight on Friday 5 May. Poems may be in either English or in Welsh.

A selection of entries will be chosen by Hannah Ellis, Dylan's grand-daughter, and showcased on www.discoverdylanthomas.com on International Dylan Thomas Day 2017, Sunday 14 May.
